MARSHALL SPEAKS AT EXPOSITION

SAYS IT'S CRYSTALLIZATION OF DREAMS AND THOUGHT OF GENIUS AND TALENT.

REPRESENTS PRESIDENT

Calls Chief Executive Greatest Peacemaker, Pays Glowing Tribute to State Making Exposition Possible.

By Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., March 24.—Characterizing the Panama-Pacific exposition as the "crystallization of the dreams and thoughts of genius and talent," Vice President Marshall spoke today at the exposition, lauding the state of California and the men who made the exposition possible, and in the name of the president of the United States dedicated the exposition to glorification of the completion of the isthmian canal.

He said in part: "I crave your sympathy and your charity while for a few brief moments I stand here, commissioned to take, but not to fill, the place of the president of the United States. In justice to the day, Woodrow Wilson should be here. The office and the man would each fittingly grace this occasion. But duty said to him that justice to all the people had him stay in Washington. You long for continued peace. Do not forget that he is your greatest peace maker. May the truth that he seeks your good rather than his own or your pleasure, lighten the disappointment of this hour. Before the curtain falls shall proclaim the close of this marvel of the Twentieth Century, the president of the United States hopes to meet you face to face.

"California is a state of mystery, of spanning madness and method, a state replete with art, science, literature, law, order and material prosperity of marvelous accomplishment. What others took to be the untidiness of a night's man in sleep, she has made the all-compelling language of her people. This exposition had to be, to justify the efforts of men the potency of dreams and visions over mere material things. It is in consonance with the

Mystery Woman in Osborne Case

This is a photograph of the woman, the mysterious woman in the strange case of James W. Osborne, the well-known New York lawyer, who was indicted when he was charged with being the mailer to defend W. Osborne years ago made a confession as a prosecutor when as a district attorney he handled the murder cases there which were read all over the world. Mrs. Tanser aged twenty-three, a forceful woman, a hat factory, began suit against him for $50,000 for breach of promise. He declared he knew all about the case and denied he had ever seen the woman. He told of letters he had received addressed to Oliver Osborne. Several days after the suit was filed Oliver Osborne appeared at James W. Osborne's home, saying he was a Boston man and that he knew Mrs. Tanser well and had taken her out.

The charge of molesting the mails grew out of the sending of these Oliver Osborne letters. It may be tried before the bench of promise case, and the result of that will depend on the verdict of the jury in the criminal case.

Three of Allies' Battleships Sunk by the Turks in Dardanelles

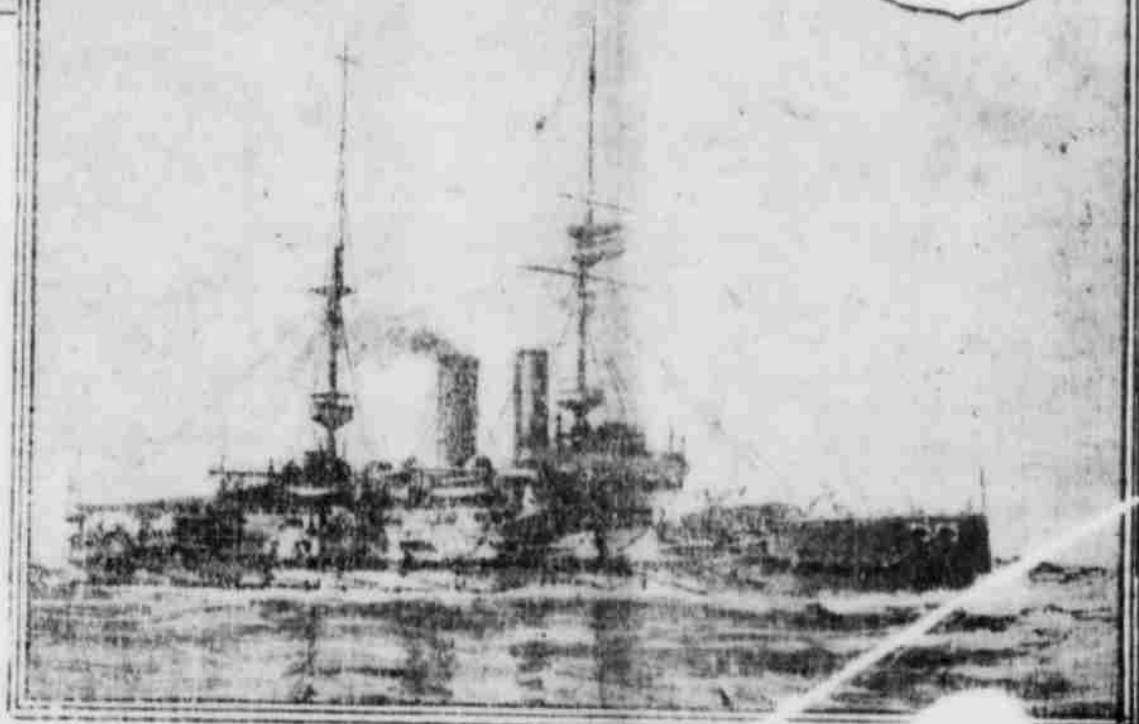

In the naval battle of Thursday in the Dardanelles, between the greatest force of warships ever engaged in a pitched battle with forts, three vessels of the allies' fleet were sunk: the Irresistible and the Ocean, British ships of the second and third class, and the Bouvet, a French battleship of the second class.

The Irresistible was a 15,500-ton ship, built in 1902. She carried 230 men. Her largest guns were of twelve-inch calibre, so they could not shoot as far as those of the new superdreadnought Queen Elizabeth, which has done most of the damage to Dardanelles forts.

The Ocean was a battleship of 12,500 tons, built in 1904. She carried 230 men. Her guns were also of twelve-inch calibre.

The Bouvet was an old ship, having been built eleven years ago. She carried 650 men, and her largest guns were twelve-inch calibre.

BRITISH AIRMEN RAID BASE OF SUBMARINES

Germans Drive Russians Out of Memel and Check

Slav Advance on Tilsit—Battle Beginning in Carpathians.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

LONDON, March 24.—A British air raid on Hoboken, near Antwerp, where the Germans are constructing submarines, another threatened effort by the Germans in Flanders, and heavy fighting in the Carpathians are the outstanding features of today's war news.

AIRMEN DO SOME DAMAGE.

Five British airmen, starting from Dunkirk, participated in a raid on the Hoboken submarine yards. Two of them were compelled to land on account of thick weather and fog, another landed in Holland on account of engine trouble and was interned. According to the report issued by the British admiralty the other two damaged two out of five submarines at the docks, and the works themselves were fired.

Dutch dispatches say seven German airmen attacked the British raiders but were outflown.

It is reported that the Germans are preparing for a supreme effort in Flanders, where already much fighting has been done within the past few days.

THE BATTLE OF THE MOMENT.

The battle of the moment is progressing between Dulka and the Uzok passes in the Carpathians, where the Russians claim the capture of a number of Austrians. Austrian correspondents declare that this battle is likely to last a long time.

AUSTRIANS DRIVE RUSSIANS FROM BUKOWINA.

The Austrians have developed a new offensive in Bukowina and have evidently driven the Russians away from the capital toward the frontier.

GERMANS REOCCUPY MEMEL.

The Germans have reoccupied Memel with the aid of warships, which are now bombarding the roads used by the retreating Russians. The Germans have also checked the Russian advance on Tilsit.

UNFAVORABLE WEATHER IN DARDANELLES.

Unfavorable weather is still interfering with the operations of the allied fleet in the Dardanelles.
